

Cabbage Worms.

From Farm and Ranch July 15.

There is a good deal of complaint of the green cabbage worm which appeared upon the cabbage some weeks ago and will be on hand in greater force soon as the new crop of millers are hatched from the cocoons. Prof. Baker, of the Experiment Station, recommended that Pyrethrum powder, commonly known as insect powder, be sprinkled upon the cabbage, mixing one part of the powder with six parts of cheap wheat flour; allow mixture to stand over night in a closed vessel. It may be dusted from a muslin bag attached to a stick, after the manner of applying Paris-green to cotton.

"The Pyrethrum powder should be fresh, as its active principle is a volatile oil and escapes rapidly when left exposed to air. It should be kept in a tight jar."

An Epidemic of Diarrhoea.

Mr. A. Sanders, writing from Coconut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by all druggists.

We took into a cradle and behold a male child. At the age of 10 he is a noisy kid, with half the buttons off his pants and an eye for meanness. At the age of 15 he is a devil in a printshop; at 25 the publisher of a country newspaper, at the head of every enterprise calculated to improve the town or enrich the business thereof; at 35 he is an emaciated and worn-out man, with holes in his pockets and a bald head; at the age of 50 he is a corpse in a cheap coffin, and his only resource left behind are two cases of long primer type, a Washington hand press and a subscription book with 500 delinquent subscribers, who line up and march past the coffin, saying: "He was a public-spirited fellow, but he couldn't save anything."

To eradicate worms from the system give the child plain, nourishing food and WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE. The result will be, the worms will disappear and the child become healthy and cheerful. Price 25 cts. For sale by Aug. Grave.

The extensive cotton factory at Cnoro which has been lying idle for a number of years, will be put in operation again this season. The future of cotton in Texas depends greatly on mills for manufacturing the raw material. The necessity for factories can best be illustrated by the State of North Carolina, when in 1870 they had 33 mills, 1890, 91 and in 1898, 186 cotton factories, and the per capita wealth has increased $32 from 1880 to 1890. The value of the product of the cotton mills has increased from $2,900,000 in 1880 to $20,000,000 in 1898. But these accumulated evidences of the state's prosperity and wealth will only need to attest to the value of cotton factories in Texas.—Jackson Co. Progress.

Imperfect digestion and assimilation produce disordered conditions of the system, which grow and are confirmed by neglect. HERBINE gives tone to the stomach, and causes good digestion. Price 50 cts. For sale by Aug. Grave.

The host: "Now that they're divorced, what kind of an arrangement is to be made?"

The pessimist: "The town house will go to the wife, the country place and stables to the husband."

"And the children?"

"To the devil."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

FIFTY MILLION COFFEE DRINKERS IN AMERICA.

Why the Famous Firm of Arbuckle Bros. Control the Bulk of the Coffee Trade.

It is estimated that there are fifty million coffee drinkers in America. We have long since passed the mark of being the largest coffee consumer in the world, one-third of the entire coffee grown being used in America. The proportion has been steadily growing since 1861 when the total amount of coffee imported was only 70,000 tons.

From Brazil, Peru, Java and Sumatra, Ceylon, India, Africa, the Philippines, and the islands of the tropics, bags, bales and barrels pour into New York city every year by the hundreds of thousands. From New York they are distributed to all parts of the country.

But the greater portion of the coffee imported is retained in New York by the famous firm of Arbuckle Bros.—the largest coffee dealers in the world. They buy more than all other dealers combined, and the name of Arbuckle has become synonymous for immense dealings in the famous breakfast beverage. This has given them great prestige among coffee growers in every part of the world; and as large buying always makes for good buying, it is not surprising that Arbuckle's has become famous as the standard of coffee value, a standard no other house has been able to reach.

Millions of homes in every section of the country today use nothing but Arbuckle's coffee. The test of experience has taught the careful housewife that her faith not only means money saved, but that she is supplying the best coffee that money can procure for the coffee drinkers of her household.

One immense advantage possessed by Arbuckle Bros. is that of being able to deliver the coffee berry to the consumer with all its delightful aroma and flavor intact. This they do by a process, the patents of which they exclusively hold, covering the many little pores of the berry thereby holding in its goodness. The intelligent housewife in the process are entirely wholesome and nothing deleterious is added to mar the delicacy of flavor or taste.

Part of the success of Arbuckle's coffee has been due to the generous nature of the system used to popularize it. Each package of the coffee there is a list of articles. With each package in which the list is found the purchaser buys a definite part of some article to be selected by him or her from the list, subject only to the condition that the signature on the package is to be cut and returned to Arbuckle Bros. Everybody should see his list.

Independence, Kan., is about to set in motion the wheels of the first cotton mill for that state. The mill building is 200 by 60 feet in dimensions, and was donated by the citizens. The plant will manufacture thread and yarn. Cloth factories are expected to follow. Texans should consider this matter of building a cotton factory in Kansas, and then proceed to build cores of such factories in their own state.—Galveston News.

It is stated at the Agricultural Department that cattle will not be admitted from the United States for exhibition at the Paris Exposition. Horses can be exhibited, but only breeding stock. These restrictions do not suit Americans at all who desire to exhibit fine fat stock, and Commissioner Peck is now endeavoring to secure their modification.
